NEWS AND INFORMATION

Repair work to the baffles has been completed. The pistol side of the range is now open. This also enables you to shoot from the standing position. It is a good idea to bring binoculars or a spotting scope out to the range along with your required eye and ear protection.

RULE TO REMEMBER:

Jon Carney, Columnist

KEEPING YOUR MUZZLE POINTED DOWNRANGE.

While you are in your booth at our range, the muzzle of the firearm you are currently shooting must be pointed downrange at all times. If for some reason your firearm was to fire accidentally, the bullet would travel in a safe direction, downrange. The walls in between the booths are not reinforced and have no special protection against bullets passing through them. While it may be unlikely that your firearm may go off accidentally, it can happen. By ensuring that your muzzle stays pointed downrange while you are in contact with it, you are ensuring that everyone is safe at Parma Woods.
